作为一个独特的知识生产和传播的机构，复旦—欧洲中国研究中心将创造丰富的学术对话与合作研究机会。我们愿意与各方合作伙伴一起，积极分享相关的资源与责任，把各种潜在的与显现的能量转换为中国研究的新知识，助益于中国的发展进步及其与世界的和合关系，从而催生一个更有活力的时代。

WORDS FROM DIRECTORS

China's unprecedented transformation in the context of globalization, marketization and urbanization has led to an urgent demand for a more nuanced and balanced knowledge of its nature, dynamics and impacts. The Fudan-European Centre for China Studies is a joint initiative of Fudan University and the University of Copenhagen to meet this growing demand. By engaging with high-level China studies in the European context, the Centre will function as an innovative platform for promoting cutting-edge, cross-disciplinary and comparative research on China.

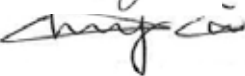

Our centre was officially established in Copenhagen in April 2013, under the same roof as Nordic Institute of Asian Studies (NIAS). Thanks to a valued and evolving partnership with NIAS and many other important actors, we are in the process of articulating our research landscapes and building productive new channels for China studies in the region.

As a centre of knowledge development and transfer, we are devoted to providing opportunities and organizing activities for relevant academics, professionals and practitioners to exchange views and to develop collaborative initiatives on China studies. Let us work together and combine our various unique potentials and resources into new ideas and new solutions for a momentous era.

We appreciate your interest and inputs, and look forward to your cooperation.

Sincerely yours,
